

Report on the Special Lecture Observing International Workers' Day
Organised by the Institution's Innovation Council (IIC), Sudhiranjan Lahiri Mahavidyalaya
Date: May 1, 2025 | Platform: Google Meet

To commemorate International Workers' Day, the Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) of Sudhiranjan Lahiri Mahavidyalaya organized a Special Lecture titled "The Making of May Day and Aftermath: A Brief Recapitulation". The lecture was delivered by Professor (Retd.) Asoke Prasun Chattopadhyay, Department of Chemistry, University of Kalyani, via the Google Meet e-platform.

Prof. Chattopadhyay presented an enlightening and thought-provoking session, tracing the historical trajectory of May Day, beginning with the Haymarket affair of 1886. His erudite lecture highlighted the ideological foundations of the global workers' movement and examined the transformation of May Day into a powerful symbol of labour solidarity and social justice. With rich historical insight and scholarly articulation, he explored its contemporary relevance amidst the challenges posed by neoliberal labour reforms.

The lecture received high praise from participants, being described as "informative and illuminating". Many remarked on its depth, clarity, and the inspiration it provided in understanding the legacy and ongoing significance of workers' struggles.

The event witnessed a remarkable turnout. In addition to the faculty, staff, and students of the host institution, attendees included research scholars from North Bengal University, faculty members from Sikkim University, Adamas University, Murlidhar Girls' College, Hooghly Women's College, Mekliganj College, RDC Murshidabad, Ranaghat College, and Plassey College. Also present were a practising lawyer and former faculty member at the Indian Institute of Legal Studies, as well as Mrs. Anisha Rai, teacher at Heritage School, Darjeeling.

The Institution's Innovation Council extends its heartfelt gratitude to Prof. Asoke P. Chattopadhyay for his invaluable contribution and to all participants for their active engagement and support in making the programme a success.

NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS: 55

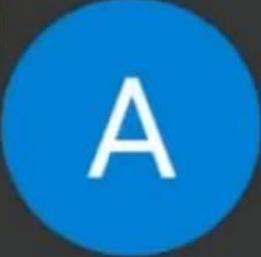

OBJECTIVE: To commemorate May Day by enlightening participants on its history, significance, and present-day relevance.

BENEFIT: The lecture deepened understanding of workers' rights, fostered inter-institutional dialogue, and inspired reflection on contemporary labour challenges.

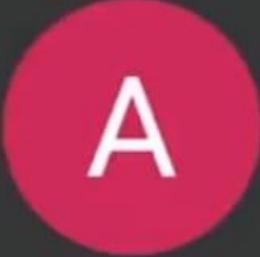

VIDEO URL: <https://www.instagram.com/p/DJH4ttGTgUD/>

PHOTOGRAPHS:

📺

Asoke Chattopadhyay

Anisha

Ratna

Dr. Nemai Chandra

2

Priyanka

Dipika

You

SURESH

Return to top

A Asoke Chattopadhyay (Presenting)

The slide content is as follows:

Events leading to May Day and its aftermath: A Brief Recapitulation

Webinar on International Worker's Day, 2025

Organized by

Institution's Innovation Council
Sudhiranjan Lahiri Mahavidyalaya
Majdia, Nadia
West Bengal

Asoke P. Chattopadhyay
Professor (retd)
Department of Chemistry
University of Kalyani
Kalyani, Nadia

38 others

Animesh Rai

11:24 | hc...

6